RONDO – exclusivity included

This new planter from the brand LECHUZA shines with stylish design and impresses with intelligent accessories

Those who are aware of their inner strengths also know how to make a commanding impression. And because all LECHUZA planters are without exception exclusive, they perfectly combine function with form and convenience. The elegant contours underline the classic silhouette of this new column planter. The interchangeable plant liner with recessed frame handle makes changing the planting easy – anywhere. And the integrated overflow function in the plant liner with a removable drain plug in the bottom of the planter for outdoor use ensures that your plants will not become waterlogged even after heavy rainfall.

But beyond all of these remarkable features, the true strength is the secret found within these stylish planters: The proven LECHUZA sub-irrigation system that when filled provides your plants with water for days without the need for further watering.
